

Here are some answers to frequently asked questions

- OSTN is a multicast 24/7 channel delivered over Internet2. (click on link below)

http://eaicp.cwru.edu:7777/OSTN\_APP3/notakiosk.jsp

- To see if your school is an “Internet2” member click on the link below.

<http://members.internet2.edu/university/universities.cfm>

- OSTN is an initiative of the non-profit company, CampusEAI Consortium
- OSTN is fully-funded by CampusEAI Consortium.
- OSTN is based in Cleveland, Ohio.
- OSTN currently has members in the US, UK, Canada, Norway, Belgium, India and Australia.
- .The OSTN channel is exclusively student-produced content.
- Some Kinds of Content Submitted: Short Films, Feature Films, Documentaries, Anime, Music Videos, Digital Animation, Sit-Coms, Game Shows, Soap Operas, Dating Games, Reality and News Shows.
- OSTN airs more than just TV and Film projects. Fine Art and Performing Art projects are sought after as well.
- OSTN is spinning out a channel called “OSTN F&S”, for faculty and staff to showcase their projects.
- Institutions and students can submit content through the Digital Depository by uploading online or by sending in mini-DV’s or DVD’s. (Click on link below)

http://learning1.campuseai.org:8080/OSTN\_VOD2/

- OSTN is delivered over Internet2 at the highest quality, NTSC.
- The OSTN channel can be converted to a legacy channel through a simple conversion box. (MIT has developed this exclusively for OSTN)
- The OSTN player can sit on a university’s portal, on a specific webpage or can be converted onto one of the school’s legacy channels.
- The OSTN channel is remotely hosted so there is no hardware required.
- There is no cost to receive the OSTN channel.
- There is no cost to become a member.
- OSTN programming is governed by a student steering committee.

- A member does not have to submit programming to receive the channel.
- There is no editing or censoring of content aired.
- OSTN does play on both Windows and Macintosh systems.
- OSTN is quickly becoming the minor league to the entertainment industry.
JOIN NOW!!